U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration - U.S. Citizenship required. Must be 21 yrs. old or younger than 37 at time of appointment.

The DEA is the Federal Government law enforcement agency that has the responsibility of enforcing the drug laws of the Controlled Substance Act. It is further our responsibility to control the importation and exportation of illegal and designer drugs within the United States. We achieve this goal by conducting criminal investigations on individual drug traffickers and their organizations in order to build a federal case against them in which they can ultimately be arrested and prosecuted to the highest degree of the law. Special Agents are criminal investigators who conduct complex investigations on drug traffickers and their organizations. Many of these investigations will take an agent to different areas of the United States and also to other parts of the world. Applicants must be in excellent physical condition, a college graduate with a 2.95 cumulative GPA, willing to relocate anywhere within the United States, pass a written exam, pass a panel interview, pass a drug screening examination, take a polygraph and psychological exam, pass a medical exam, pass a Physical Task Test, and a very in depth Background Investigation. Once an applicant passes all of these requirements, they could then be offered a job as a Special Agent. The DEA is currently in need of minorities and females who would be interested in an exciting career in federal drug law enforcement. We desire, however to employ only those individuals who are most competitive for the job as special agent regardless of their gender, race, or ethnic origin. To learn more about this exciting career as a Special Agent visit: www.dea.gov. Career Opportunities: Special Agents – Must be willing to relocate.

U.S. Marine Corps - The United States Marine Corps serves as America's number one force in readiness and has been operational since 1775. The Marine Corps offers a wide array of jobs from combat arms and aviation, to journalism and music. Some of the benefits offered are leadership and technical skills, educational opportunities, physical fitness and self discipline. See a Marine recruiter today to see if you have what it takes to be one of the few and the proud? Career Opportunities: Officer and Enlistment Careers
